FOREWORD

THIS NINTH VOLUME of the Fasti Ecclesiae Scoticae will be of particular interest, covering as it does the period 1929 to 1954. In these years the two confluent streams of the Church of Scotland and the United Free Church of Scotland merged in one, and as one result there have taken place many unions of congregations and readjustments of areas. This has necessitated numerous cross-references and notice of alterations in the parishes concerned. This arduous task entrusted to the Editor, the Rev. John A. Lamb, Ph.D., D.D., Librarian, New College, Edinburgh, has been admirably undertaken and accomplished. For the production of this volume the Church owes a debt of gratitude to him. His meticulous scholarship and careful arrangement of data are recognisable throughout its pages.

Thanks are also due to the General Assembly, Synod and Presbytery Clerks for their co-operation by completing and transmitting the relative schedules of particulars required. A generous grant from the Carnegie Trust towards the production of this volume is hereby most gratefully acknowledged. Mention should also be made of the continuous and careful attention given by the members of the Special Committee on the Fasti appointed by the General Assembly's Committee on General Administration.

THOMAS CALDWELL, D.D.

Convener of the Special Committee on the Fasti.

EDITOR'S NOTE

THE GENERAL ARRANGEMENT follows that of previous volumes in this series, with one exception. In earlier volumes the fullest details concerning a minister were given under the first charge, while here they are given under the last charge, held by him in the period covered by the volume.

While the work is a list of ordained ministers, a few ordained missionaries are included where information has been obtained, and their names are in italics.

In the Index of Ministers the most complete entry for any individual (where there is more than one entry) is indicated by the page-number in italics.

Where "Presb." (for Presbytery) occurs, the reference is to a Presbytery of the Church of Scotland, other denominations being named.

CANONGATE (HOLYROODHOUSE)

(FES, I, 23, VIII, 7)

In 1128 David I founded an Abbey in honour of the Holy Rood, St Mary the Virgin and All Saints. At the Reformation the Abbey Church became the parish church of Canongate or the Kirk of Holy-roodhouse. On 12 June 1672 the Privy Council, at His Majesty's desire, forbade
the use of the building as a parish church that it might be set apart as a Chapel Royal. The congregation however continued to worship in the church until the keys were given up on 14 July 1687 when it became a chapel for the Knights of the Thistle and from 16 July 1687 Lady Yester's became the temporary place of worship until 22 Aug. 1691, when the keys of the new building, begun in 1688, were handed to the minister by the Privy Council. Edinburgh Castle with all its pertinent buildings is within this parish. "The Kirk Session of Canongate (The Kirk of Holyroodhouse) and of Edinburgh Castle is a Court Spiritual by law established in the Realm of Scotland" (Public Register of Arms and Bearings in Scotland, Vol. 38, p. 155).

In 1929 the church and the church hall (an old Burgh School) were in need of renovation and repair, and the manse at 3 St John Street was condemned in 1938. In 1947 the side galleries of the church were removed; in 1950 the apse was reopened, and a complete interior renovation and restoration was made; the vestry in the NE corner was rebuilt. In 1954 the vestry in the NW corner was rebuilt, the back gallery lowered and the session-house placed in the SE at the back gallery. The front of the church was repaired in 1946 and the west and north sides of the church completely restored in 1951-5, and the east wall was repointed in 1953. The hall was moved to Gullan's Close, Canongate (due for demolition in 1955). The manse was at Acheson House 1938-47, and 17 Regent Terrace from 1947.

When the Old Kirk was removed to Pilton in 1939-40, part of that parish was added. (See Ronald Selby Wright: The Kirk in the Canongate, Edinburgh, 1956).

Matriculation of the Arms of the Kirk and Minister

The Minister and Kirk Session of the Canongate (The Kirk of Holyroodhouse) and of Edinburgh Castle having by Petition unto the Lord Lyon King of Arms of date the 29th February 1952 Shewn, That the Kirk Session of the Canongate (The Kirk of Holyroodhouse) and of Edinburgh Castle is a Court Spiritual by Law established in the Realm of Scotland; That Ensigns Armorial of the Burgh of Canongate were used long anterior to the year 1672 and that the badge of the stag's head with a cross between the attires is also borne as the badge relative to the administration of the Palace of Holyroodhouse within the said Parish; that Ensigns Armorial derived from the said Arms borne by the said Burgh of Canongate in connection with the Abbey of Holyrood have from a period long anterior to the year 1672 been used in connection with the said Kirk of Canongate, and His Majesty the King was graciously pleased to present the Minister of the Canongate with a twelve-point stag's head in that connection; And the Petitioners having prayed that the appropriate Ensigns Armorial to be borne by the Minister and Kirk Session of the Canongate (The Kirk of Holyroodhouse) and of Edinburgh Castle might be ascertained and matriculated in the Public Register of all Arms and Bearings in Scotland, pursuant to the Statute 1672, cap. 47, The Lord Lyon King of Arms by Interlocutor of date the 29th February 1952 Granted Warrant to the Lyon Clerk to matriculate in the Public Register of All Arms and Bearings in Scotland in the name of the Petitioners, the following Ensigns Armorial videlicet: Per chevron embattled Gules and Azure,¹ a stag's head erased with a cross paty fitchy between the attires all Or, and in an escroll beneath, this Motto: SIC ITUR AD ASTRA, which Ensigns Armorial are to be borne by the Minister of the Canongate (The Kirk of Holyroodhouse) and of Edinburgh Castle ensigned of an ecclesiastical hat, having a string of one tassel on each side Sable:² which achievements are depicted respectively in the margin and below the text hereof. Matriculated the 29th day of February 1952. Extract furth of the 155th page of the thirty-eighth Volume of the Public Register of All Arms and Bearings in Scotland the 29th Day of February 1952, under the Seal of the Court of the Lord Lyon King of Arms and the hand of the Lyon Clerk and Keeper of the Records.

² On page 36 of the 44th volume of the Public Register of All Arms and Bearings in Scotland, 1959 the following change was made:—"An ecclesiastical chapeau sable, having on either side a cord gules with one tassel purple."

The following corrections to FES, VIII should be noted. JOHN BRAND, for "1544" read "1564"; MATTHEW WEMYSS, for "1635" read "1630"; WILLIAM LOTHIAN, for "1769" read "1764". Under Canongate Second Charge, JOHN WARDEN, 1755, and JOHN WARDEN (MACFARLANE), for "Macfarlane" read "Macfarlan".

CHARTERIS MEMORIAL

(FES, VIII, 20)

Church with halls. Prior to 1934 the constitutional position of the minister was assist. St Cuthbert's, without a seat in the Presbytery. The General Assembly of 1934 gave a special constitution to the church making it the equivalent of Q.S., giving the minister a seat in the Presbytery. The administration of the affairs of the parish was to be in the hands of the Kirk Session with six local elders appointed by the Presbytery. This proved unworkable and the Presb. gave permission for more local elders. United with Pleasance 30 June 1953.

OVERSEAS PRESBYTERIES

[Note by the Reverend J. W. C. Dougall, D.D., Secretary to the Foreign Mission Committee, dated 19 Oct. 1956.]

In accordance with the Resolution of the General Assemblies of the Churches in 1929, 66 Presbyteries were recognised in Scotland, together with two Continental Presbyteries and 13 Foreign Mission Presbyteries which, as in the United Free Church of Scotland, were given representation in the General Assembly (Acts of Union Assembly page 137). The Foreign Mission Presbyteries were the following—Madras, Nagpur, Bengal, Santalia, Rajputana, Western India, Hyderabad, Manchuria, Jamaica, South Africa, Calabar, Gold Coast, Livingstonia. By Act XXX of the General Assembly of 1931 the Presbyteries of Blantyre, Kenya, Eastern Himalaya and Punjab were added, making a total of 17 "Overseas Presbyteries", as they were now called.

Act IX of General Assembly of 1936 is the basis of subsequent action. Schedule B of this Act, Overseas Presbyteries, gives the list which is as follows—Bengal, Eastern Himalaya, Rajputana, Punjab, Western India, Madras, Gold Coast, Calabar, South Africa, Livingstonia, Manchuria, and Jamaica. Kenya was added in 1937, and Blantyre in 1942.

It will be noted that Nagpur, Santalia, and Hyderabad do not appear in the list. The reason is that the ministers and elders of these old United Free Presbyteries are included in the neighbouring Presbyteries of Western India and Eastern Himalaya.

The list of Overseas Presbyteries was unchanged until 1952 when the Presbytery of Manchuria was dissolved by Act XVIII of the General Assembly of that year. In 1955 the Presbytery of Calabar was similarly dissolved at the request of the Foreign Mission Committee by Act XXIV of the General Assembly. It should be noted also that by the Union of the Presbytery of Kenya with the Presbyterian Church of East Africa on 11 Feb. 1956 that Presbytery also has ceased to exist. The General Assembly on 30 May 1956 dissolved the Presbytery of Rajputana at the request of the same Committee. It is to be expected that several of the remaining Presbyteries will be dissolved shortly by the General Assembly as they will not have enough members to form a quorum. This is due to two causes. The first is the very considerable reduction in the number of ministers appointed in conjunction with the Colonial Committee to C. of S. congregations in India. The other reason is that in accordance with the policy of the Foreign Mission Committee, ordained ministers are to an increasing extent relinquishing their status as ministers of the C. of S. in order to become ministers of Indigenous Churches with which they are serving.

The following list of ministers includes the ministers who served in all the above Presbyteries with the exception of Jamaica, which is dealt with separately.
